SOUNDERS AT 40: A FAIRYTALE OF SORTS

By Frank MacDonald

To some, it's ancient history. To others, the memories are so vivid it seems as if it were yesterday.

In truth, it's been 40 years since they first trotted out the Memorial Stadium tunnel with Henry Mancini's Salute to the Olympians, now known as their musical theme, blaring over the loudspeakers. Forty years of Seattle Sounders fútbol.

Much has changed since 1974, yet many traditions have more than endured, growing stronger with the years. Sounders FC may be in its infancy with regard to MLS, but the Sounders' history is as rich as any club in America, with a penchant for pulling passionate crowds, producing quality players and lifting trophies for four decades.

Those just joining in are catching a wave. A huge wave. The Sounders FC level of support, both in terms of sheer numbers and noise created, is practically unrivaled in U.S. soccer annals. The Sounders attendance levels of the 70s and 80s would've also led MLS on 10 occasions.

With each year, the Rave Green's roster features more and more homegrown players. But again, that's nothing new; native sons have been donning Sounders shirts since the beginning.

Furthermore, the connection between club and community has been strong since that mid-Spring evening 40 years ago at Memorial Stadium. From the days of Chursky's Chicks to today's ever-growing legion of Emerald City Supporters, there's a steadfast pact: as long roots were always sinking deeper, growing stronger.

Seattle's first foray into professional soccer may have begun as a misunderstanding. A local group of successful businessmen was probing about the possibility of securing an NFL expansion team. Representing the group, Walt Daggatt had a chance encounter with Lamar Hunt at the pro football owners' meetings. Hunt was owner of both the Kansas City Chiefs and the North American Soccer League's Dallas Tornado.

"(Hunt) said they might want to bide their time by looking into soccer," says Cliff McCrath. "Walt understood it as a mandate rather than a suggestion." Daggatt returned to Seattle and quickly convened a meeting of McCrath, the Seattle Pacific College coach, and seven other soccer community leaders. Many members of the group had helped host touring European teams in the past, friendlies that attracted up to 9,000 fans with modest promotion.

McCrath was chosen by Daggatt to dig into the details. What would it take to become successful? After spending two days looking over Hunt's ledgers in Dallas, McCrath put together a pro forma, projecting an average of 6,000 fans per game paying $1.41 per ticket, including taxes. The ownership green-lit as you play for us, we will shout and sing for you.

To truly appreciate what hath been wrought, one must take a brief trip back in time to see from what seeds this sequoia grows skyward. At times nourishment was plentiful. At times there was drought. But within the soil the the venture and on December 11, 1973, Seattle, was granted one of eight NASL expansion teams.

Even the most avid proponents of local soccer were shocked by the turnout five months later. "Our first home game, instead of 6,000 we had 12,000," says McCrath. "By the time we left Memorial Stadium we added 6,000 more seats. It was a fairytale of sorts."

Sounders publicist Hal Childs coined the phrase Camelot to describe that magical first season under the Space Needle. The connection between fans and players was instantaneous. It never rained on a home game while the lads, as they were then known, took the city by storm.

David Gillett was in the thick of it that inaugural season, wearing the no. 17 shirt. He and the other players, most on loan from lower-division English clubs, had only hit town a couple weeks earlier.

"I really didn't know what to expect," said Gillett, then a 23-year-old central defender from Edinburgh. "We would've thought 4-5,000 would've been good. But when a decent crowd turned up it was obvious someone had done quite a bit of groundwork. Then we won big (4-0 over Denver). So that sparked more interest and we were off and running."

The original Sounders were solidly grounded. Six of the eight general partners would form the Seahawks' first ownership group. They were civic-minded and made it a priority to engage and serve the community whenever possible.

Pam Copple remembers taking the reins of her daughter's soccer team and not knowing anything about the game. Feeling helpless, she phoned the experts. "I would call up the Sounders and ask them about doing a goalkeeping clinic, and (starting keeper) Tony Chursky would show up." Chursky and about 250-300 kids and coaches would attend.

Gillett credits John Best, the first head coach, with setting the initial course. "John picked not only good players, but he put together a team of character, of guys who would go the extra mile and do the extra things," Gillett remembered. Many afternoons and evenings included player demonstrations and clinics.

Fans responded in kind. After each home game, players and supporters would mingle together at the nearby Center House eateries. "I must have had dinner with everyone in Seattle," said Gillett. "Everyone was asking us out."

Handsome, personable and eloquent, Best was the face of the franchise for the first three years. A galvanizing figure on the field was the original skipper, Jimmy Gabriel. "The guys really related to Jimmy," said Gillett. "He was a famous player and everyone was over the moon he was in the team. He had a lot of good qualities, could really set the tone and change games."

Midway through the first season, Seattle achieved the first sellout in NASL history. After outgrowing Memorial the club moved to the newly completed Kingdome in 1976, averaging nearly 23,000 the ensuing five seasons.

Newly signed to the reserve team that season was West Seattle's Jimmy McAlister, just 19 years old. In another year McAlister would earn a starting spot at left back, take NASL Rookie of the Year honors and swap shirts with Pelé following the Black Pearl's final competitive game.

"There was soccer going on here long before the Sounders came in '74, and I know some people think these big crowds just started (with Sounders FC)," said McAlister. "They don't know about the big crowds in the Kingdome. There's a lot of history here."

McAlister was the Sounders' first breakthrough player on a national scale. Best and Gabriel's reserve program, the NASL's first, was committed to producing local talent. It spawned several starters and U.S. National Team performers, most notably Tacoma's Mark Peterson, the NASL club's all-time leader in goals.

Of course, it helped that the Sounders were winners in each of their first five seasons. They reached the championship game in '77 and '82, and in 1980 Alan Hinton's side set a league record with 25 wins in 32 matches while scoring goals (74) in bunches.
Jack Daley, the club's first GM, says that while championships eluded them, it was not for lack of effort. "You can't win every game," says Daley. "We said we're going to be a credit to our fan base and the city of Seattle. Our credo was to give you 100 percent and we were never going to quit."

Unfortunately the NASL flag-bearer was New York, and the Cosmos, despite their massive crowds, operated an unsustainable model. In 1983 the Sounders ceased operations and a year later the entire league was gone.

The next 25 years were filled with fits and starts. Fans took refuge with the indoor six-a-side game. With pregame laser light shows and pinball-type action sometimes accompanied by rock music, the MISL Stars attracted some record crowds to the Tacoma Dome. But again, player salaries and travel costs outstripped revenue.

Soon after the Sounders' demise, Eastside businessman Bud Greer formed FC Seattle. Greer was committed to keeping soccer alive while focusing on developing local talent. Simply put, Seattle was going organic.

FC Seattle Storm won the Western Soccer League in 1988.

Beginning with a series of challenge matches versus NASL clubs and the U.S. National Team in 1984, FC Seattle was an experiment to determine whether Americans, and in this case boys from our own backyard, could compete with professionals from around the world. A tour of Britain helped Tacoma's Brent Goulet earn a contract to play in England.

At the same time, Seattle figured prominently in the launch of the A-League, the forerunner to USL-1. FC Seattle Storm won the Western Soccer League in 1988 with a lineup comprised exclusively of players who had either grown up or attended college in Puget Sound. It was a glimpse of what was possible, but the sport endured it's share of struggles.

In a span of 10 years the NASL Sounders, FC Seattle and onetime sensation Tacoma Stars all folded. A costly bid to host 1994 World Cup games at Husky Stadium failed, as did a drive for a charter franchise in MLS. The key missing ingredient to both was a lack of a suitable stadium. A solution was in the works and once again local soccer and football's fates were intertwined.

With Seattle in danger of losing the Seahawks without a new stadium, Washington's soccer community pulled alongside, pushing the statewide initiative over the finish line and resulting in the construction of CenturyLink Field.

"When we took down the Kingdome and built this new stadium," said former state youth president Copple, "this (Sounders FC) was our goal. It didn't come as quickly as we thought, but it came and that's what's important."

It was also vital that the game continued growing even during this dearth of professional events. An initial dip in youth participation rates following the Sounders closing gave way to sustained growth. From 1986 to 2005, the number of youth players statewide doubled to some 125,000, with the highest per capita rate in the nation. More than quantity, quality players such as Chris Henderson, Michelle Akers and Kasey Keller came of age. Akers, who would win a pair of World Cups and Olympic gold during her career, admittedly modeled her game on Gillett, the original Sounder.

It may only be a name, yet 'Sounders' has always elicited a special feeling of togetherness around Seattle. Alan Hinton knew it. When he re-launched local pro soccer in 1994, there was no doubt about the club's name. The original Sounders, he said, "left a very good feeling about what's possible here," says Hinton. "The name had value, and in '94 and '95 we got it sparking again."

The new Sounders, combining a rekindled community spirit with many of the best local players of their era, won back-to-back A-League championships in both '95 and '96, both teams featuring eight starters from the Puget Sound area, including goalkeeper Marcus Hahnemann. Following in Hinton's footsteps as coaches were three of his former players, including Brian Schmetzer.

It was apparent when CenturyLink Field (then Seahawks Stadium) opened that a new day was dawning for the Sounders. The kids who had grown up with Sounders games and school assemblies were now parents and coaches, anxious to share, relive and build upon those memories. With two USL-1 championships in three years, the Sounders had momentum. A venue lay in wait and MLS was set to expand. Soon Sounders owner Adrian Hanauer met with Joe Roth and before long a new era has begun.

"Adrian kept it going and they hit a home run by involving the Seahawks," offers Hinton. "It's all come together now. It's no surprise to me that this city has responded to America's best soccer returning. It's most rewarding for everybody, for all the hard work that's gone into the game around here for the last 40 years and before that.

"This city is totally wrapped up in soccer and the crowds can grow beyond 44,000 because of the people's love affair with this game," he adds. "I believed that years ago, and I believe it now. There's no question in my mind that one day this club will reach 100 years."

ADRIAN HANAUER

OWNER & GENERAL MANAGER

Adrian Hanauer first kept the flame of professional soccer alive in Seattle before helping to reignite the community's passion for the game with the arrival of a Major League Soccer expansion franchise in 2009.

As General Manager, Hanauer has led Sounders FC to extraordinary success during the first five seasons. In 2013, Seattle reached the MLS playoffs for the fifth-consecutive season, one of just three teams to do so. Sounders FC has carried that success internationally, becoming the first MLS team to eliminate a Mexican club from CONCACAF Champions League and is one of just four MLS teams to advance to the semifinals of the tournament. Seattle is also the first team to qualify for the CONCACAF Champions League in each of its first three years, including two-straight quarterfinal appearances (2011-12, 2012-13).

In 2012, Hanauer architected a team that advanced to the Western Conference Championship for the first time in club history. Sounders FC also became just third team in the 99-year history of the tournament to win three consecutive Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup championships (2009, 2010, 2011), and just the second to qualify for four consecutive finals (2009, 2010, 2011, 2012). This success helped Hanauer be retained as the team's general manager in the first-ever fan vote in American professional sports history. A total of 13,755 votes were submitted during the two-month window and he received 96.3-percent of the votes for retention. Hanauer was also honored as the 2012 Executive of the Year at the 78th MTR Western Sports Star of the Year Awards, given to an individual for contributions to the success of the regional sports industry.

Hanauer has not only guided Seattle to success on the field, but he is largely responsible for the club's off the field achievements as well. Sounders FC has set the league attendance record each season since 2009, averaging 44,038 in 2013, over 20,000 more than the next-closest team. Seattle hosted the second-largest crowd for a standalone MLS match when 67,385 packed CenturyLink Field for a Cascadia Cup match against the rival Portland Timbers.

Since 2001, Hanauer has been associated with the highest level of soccer played in Seattle. He first joined the ownership group of the Sounders franchise in the United Soccer League's First Division, and later became majority shareholder and general manager. His first season in that role, 2002, was rewarded with Seattle going 23-4-1—the second-best record in league history. From 2004-07, the Sounders played in the USL-1 championship game three times, winning twice (2005, 2007) and also taking a Commissioner's Cup (best record) in 2007.

Hanauer has more than 20 years of business experience in a variety of other industries. On numerous occasions he has made early stage investments in technology companies with interests in advertising, infrastructure, and wireless communications. Hanauer co-founded Curious Office Partners, which invests in and incubates early stage technology companies. He was a seed stage investor in aQuantive Inc., the largest interactive advertising company which was later acquired by Microsoft for $6 billion US, and he was also an early investor in Amazon.com.

Hanauer also brings a great deal of "brick and mortar" business experience. The Hanauer family owns Pacific Coast Feather Co., the nation's largest manufacturer of pillows, comforters, and bedding products. He also owns one of the largest chains of picture framing companies in the United States, as well as a small chain of pizza restaurants.

Involved in many organizations in Seattle, Hanauer sits on the Board of Trustees for the Museum of History and Industry. He has also sat on the advisory board of The University of Washington Intercollegiate Sports Master's Degree Program.

Hanauer's interest in soccer began at the age of three, and he saw his first NASL Sounders game at the age of eight. He went on to play for Mercer Island High School and remains active in the Greater Seattle Soccer League.

In addition to his interest in Sounders FC, Hanauer is one of the largest shareholders of England's Cambridge United Football Club, currently of the English Conference (fifth tier). While with the USL Sounders, Hanauer promoted international matches, most notably an exhibition between Real Madrid and D.C. United which attracted a then-record Seattle crowd of 66,612 to CenturyLink Field in 2006. The Sounders also arranged friendlies featuring Mexico's Club America and Britain's Sunderland, Cardiff City FC and Preston North End.

Hanauer attended the University of Washington.

PAUL G. ALLEN
OWNER
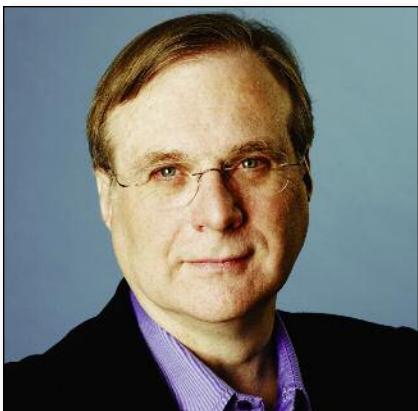

Paul G. Allen helped bring Major League Soccer to the Northwest when Vulcan Sports and Entertainment joined the ownership group behind the Sounders FC. The 2007 announcement that the Sounders FC would become an MLS team was the result of years of work and enthusiasm on behalf of soccer fans.

A Seattle native, Allen's passion for sports began when he attended University of Washington football games with his father. His enthusiasm for the game and love of his hometown were two of the reasons he purchased the National Football League's Seattle Seahawks in 1996, a move that saved the team from being relocated to Southern California. In 2014, the Seahawks became Super Bowl XLVIII champions after defeating the Denver Broncos.

Allen had visions of world-class soccer in Seattle soon after purchasing the Seahawks. On June 17, 1997, Washington state voters approved "Referendum 48" to authorize a public/private partnership to construct a stadium, exhibition center and parking facilities in downtown Seattle. One of the keys to the success of the vote was statewide support from the soccer community and its hope to one day see professional soccer, played at the highest level, return to the Northwest.

"From the beginning of this process, my goals have been to work with the community to create a lasting asset for our future and to ensure the long-term success of the Seahawks," said Allen at the time of purchasing the franchise. He also wanted to create a world-class facility for the state of Washington.

That dream became a reality in 2002 with the opening of the Seahawks Stadium and Exhibition Center, renamed CenturyLink Field and Century-Link Field Event Center in 2011. An open-air facility which many critics argue is the best venue in the NFL, CenturyLink Field is home to more than 165 events annually ranging from soccer, to Supercross, concerts, graduation ceremonies and trade shows. In 2013, CenturyLink Field became the loudest NFL stadium when it broke the Guinness World Record for loudest crowd at an outdoor stadium.

"It exceeds the vision we had originally," Allen said shortly after the opening of the stadium. "We wanted to create an intimate, elegantly designed stadium that would be great for the fans, and I think we've ended up with a fantastic facility."

Allen has spent his career tackling some of the world's biggest challenges and pushing the boundaries of what's possible. Through both for-profit and philanthropic investments, he has sparked important developments and innovations in the areas of science, technology, education, conservation, the arts and community improvement. Allen first made his mark in Seattle when he co-founded Microsoft with Bill Gates in 1975, and he continues to be an innovator in the world of business and technology to this day. He is founder and chairman of Vulcan Inc., which oversees his philanthropic and business interests, and he owns the National Basketball Association's Portland Trail Blazers.

With lifetime giving totaling more than $1.5 billion, Allen is included among the world's leading philanthropists who have pledged to donate the majority of their fortunes to charity. His giving is channeled through The Paul G. Allen Family Foundation, which works to catalyze change, transform lives and strengthen communities by supporting arts and culture, youth engagement, community development, social change and scientific and technological advancement. He also gives directly, including $281.8 million to Washington since 1990.

In addition to his business and philanthropic efforts, Allen has a true love of science. He created the Allen Institute for Brain Science in Seattle in 2003 to accelerate understanding of the human brain in health and disease. The Institute has generated groundbreaking online public resources, including interactive atlases of the mouse and human brain that have become indispensable research tools for scientists worldwide. In 2012, Allen pledged $300 million to significantly expand the Institute's scientific programs. In 2013, he launched the Allen Institute for the Artificial Intelligence to explore critical questions in AI.

His love of science reaches to the far ends of the universe. In 2004, Allen funded SpaceShipOne, the first privately-backed effort to successfully put a civilian in suborbital space. And in 2011, he got back into the space business with the formation of Stratolaunch Systems, which is developing a revolutionary airborne launch system.

His award-winning film company, Vulcan Productions, develops and supports media projects that help audiences understand the world around them and respond to challenges. Vulcan Productions' projects include the Interdependence Movement Annual Film Award-winning Girl Rising; the 2013 Sundance Film Festival Official Selection Pandora's Promise; the Emmy Award-winning Rx for Survival–A Global Health Challenge; the Peabody Award-winning Judgment Day: Intelligent Design; the PBS series This Emotional Life; and the PBS series The Blues.

Allen is also the founder of the EMP Museum, Seattle's critically acclaimed interactive museum of music, popular culture and science fiction; the Flying Heritage Collection, an assemblage of rare World War II aircraft restored to flying condition and shared with the public; and the Living Computer Museum, a collection of restored vintage timesharing computer equipment in Seattle's SoDo district. Idea Man, Allen's 2011 memoir, was a New York Times bestseller.

DREW CAREY

OWNER

Drew Carey is a stand-up comic turned actor and producer and is now regarded as American soccer's most recognizable supporter. Carey is an owner of Seattle Sounders FC and serves as chairman of Sounders FC Alliance, the club's member association.

Carey had the distinction of having two hit shows simultaneously: the long-running comedy "The Drew Carey Show," which ran from 1995-2004, and the improv/sketch show "Whose Line Is It Anyway?" on which he was host and a producer. The success of that show led to the creation of "Drew Carey's Improv All-Stars," an improv group that performs in showrooms across the country. In July 2007, Carey was named the host of "The Price Is Right," America's longest running game show.

While in the Marine Reserves, his military buzz cut and black wide-rim glasses became part of his trademark look. He began his successful career as a comedian in April of 1986 at the Cleveland Comedy Club. One of his first big breaks was competing on Star Search '88. In 1991, Carey landed a spot on HBO's 14th Annual Young Comedians Special and appeared on The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson. Carey openly credits Carson with launching his career. He received a Star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame in 2003.

Carey's interest in soccer began while attending an L.A. Galaxy game in 2003. Shortly after, he started seeing every professional game he could find time for, including European league games and U.S. National Team qualifying games. He learned more about the game and, during a later visit to Spain, saw FC Barcelona in action. He also worked as a press photographer during the 2006 World Cup in Germany, his efforts chronicled on a Travel Channel show entitled Drew Carey's Sporting Adventures and his photos have appeared in numerous publications.

During his travels Carey became fascinated with the empowerment of supporters at such clubs as Barcelona and Real Madrid, where leadership positions are voted upon by the members. He brought that idea to Sounders FC, where members will vote on various matters, most notably the fate of the general manager every four years. Carey is also the driving force for Seattle's 53-piece marching band, Sound Wave.

Carey is a native of Cleveland, Ohio and currently resides in Los Angeles.

PETER McLOUGHLIN

CEO VULCAN SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT
PRESIDENT, SEAHAWKS, SOUNDERS FC AND FIRST & GOAL, INC.

Originally named president of the Seattle Seahawks, Seattle Sounders FC and First & Goal, Inc. on September 23, 2010, Peter McLoughlin is responsible for all financial and business operations, sales and marketing, sponsorship, and administration of the Seahawks and Sounders FC. Additionally, as president of First & Goal, Inc., McLoughlin directs the management of CenturyLink Field, CenturyLink Field Event Center and WaMu Theater. He is the club's chief representative at NFL owners meetings and also serves on NFL committees for Business Ventures, Digital Media, Stadium Security and Fan Behavior.

In the fall of 2012, McLoughlin added the responsibility of the Portland Trail Blazers and Rose Garden when Paul G. Allen named him CEO of Vulcan Sports and Entertainment. In this expanded role, McLoughlin has oversight of business operations for the Trail Blazers and Rose Garden, while also serving as an Alternate Governor for the Trail Blazers and representing the franchise at NBA owners meetings.

Under his direction, McLoughlin and his team negotiated a multi-year stadium naming-rights partnership with CenturyLink, as well as long-term partnerships with Anheuser-Busch, Boeing, Delta, HomeStreet Bank, and Starbucks. He also negotiated new broadcast deals with Q13 FOX (KCPQ-TV) and Bonneville (710 ESPN and KIRO 97.3 FM) for Seahawks and Sounders FC.

During McLoughlin's tenure, Sounders FC has established itself as a model franchise in Major League Soccer (MLS). For the fifth-straight season, Seattle supporters set a new standard for MLS season attendance (748,652 total; 44,038 average). Sounders FC, which finished the 2013 season with 88-consecutive sellouts, posted a 93-percent season ticket renewal rate for the 2014 season and sold more than 33,000 season ticket memberships, the most in franchise history.

McLoughlin's vision of a fan-friendly environment at CenturyLink Field has increased the number of fixed and portable points-of-sale and installed digital menu boards at all concession stands which will provide flexibility in pricing and menu, while adding flat screen HD televisions throughout the concourses so fans will not miss any action. These improvements, in partnership with new concessionaire Sportservice, a subsidiary of Delaware North Companies, will improve the concession experience, including the addition of 40 new portable food and beverage locations and a new beer hall.

Additionally, last season, the team expanded the stadium Pro Shop to 7,400 square feet of floor space and 30 points of sale. The expansion more than doubled the size of the store and offers fans more choices in Seahawks and Sounders FC apparel and novelty items with faster service through mobile checkouts.

McLoughlin has also continued the initiative for stadium sustainability since his arrival. A solar array of 3,750 panels was installed on the roof of the CenturyLink Field Event Center that has reduced annual utility costs by 21 percent, in addition to water and waste conservation efforts that reduce the effect on the environment.

Before moving to Seattle, McLoughlin served as chief executive officer of the St. Louis Blues Enterprises from 2006-10. For 21 years prior to joining the Blues, McLoughlin served in a variety of executive roles at Anheuser-Busch. From 1998 to 2006, McLoughlin was vice president of Corporate Media and served as an officer of the company. He negotiated media agreements with television networks that included category exclusivity in 15 Super Bowls, 10 Olympics and dominant presence in MLB, NBA, NFL, NHL, NCAA and World Cup soccer telecasts. In addition, McLoughlin led negotiations for beer sponsorship of more than 80% of U.S. professional sports teams and stadiums, as well as league partnerships.

McLoughlin began his professional career at NBC Sports. From July 1979 to March 1984, he served as a senior unit manager at NBC Sports, where he managed production budgets and supervised on-site production of network programming. From March 1984 to October 1985, McLoughlin worked in NBC Sports Sales.

Seattle became the first MLS club to win three-consecutive Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup titles (2009, 2010, 2011) and advanced to a fourth straight final in 2012. Seattle also became the first MLS expansion team since the league began expanding in 2005 to reach the playoffs in each of its first five seasons, and is one of just three teams (LA Galaxy and Real Salt Lake) to qualify for the postseason each of the past five years.

Since 2009, Sounders FC players have been selected to the MLS All-Star team 13 times, including DeAndre Yedlin in 2013 – the first rookie to receive the honor since 2005. Henderson has also helped bring some of the world's top talent to MLS in U.S. National Team Captain Clint Dempsey, and MLS Newcomers of the Year Fredy Montero (2009) and Mauro Rosales (2011). Upon his retirement following the 2006 season, he was league record-holder in four categories, including career games played (317; currently No. 12) and started (304; currently No. 3). Henderson achieved a career-high with 11 goals and again made the All-Star Game to begin his second stint for the Rapids in 2002. From 1999-2000 he played in Kansas City, helping the Wizards win the 2000 MLS Cup. That season, he played in a career-high 38 games, scoring 10 goals and adding nine assists. Henderson played two seasons at UCLA, helping the Bruins win an NCAA championship and earning All-America honors in 1990. He connected on penalty kicks during tiebreaker wins in both the semifinal and final. Earlier that year, Henderson began senior international play prior to the 1990 World Cup. At age 19, he was the youngest member of the United States roster. He was also a member of the 1992 U.S. Olympic Team and an alternate on the 1994 and 1998 World Cup squads. He set a team record with five assists in 1993 and has 10 career assists. Henderson was just the second player to have competed for the U.S. National Team on every level (U16, U20, Olympics, Youth World Cup, World Cup).

In 2004, the Chris Henderson Foundation was launched, giving grants to fight Leukemia and to underprivileged children. He was named the 2004 MLS W.O.R.K.S. Humanitarian of the Year and his club's Humanitarian of the Year for both Colorado and New York.

Born in Edmonds, Wash., Henderson, 43, attended Everett's Cascade High School where he earned the 1989 Gatorade National Player of the Year award and Washington State Player of the Year. SIGI
SCHMID

Sigi Schmid
HEAD COACH

Named the first Head Coach of Seattle Sounders FC on December 16, 2008, Sigi Schmid is the winningest coach in MLS history. Since 1999, Schmid's teams have won nine major titles, including two MLS Cups.

A two-time MLS Coach of the Year, Schmid has led Sounders FC to five-consecutive appearances in the MLS Cup Playoffs, marking the second-longest active streak while nearing the record for most consecutive postseason appearances by an expansion team. In 2012, the club reached its first-ever Western Conference Championship and, in 2013, the team won its first-ever Knockout Round match against the Colorado Rapids.

Schmid also guided Sounders FC to a record three-straight Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup titles, becoming the first team in 42 years to win back-to-back-to-back championships. The run began in 2009 with a 2-1 road win at D.C. United, followed by a 2-1 home win against the Columbus Crew to claim the 2010 title. In 2011, Sounders FC made history with a 2-0 win over the Chicago Fire in front of a record crowd on the Xbox Pitch at CenturyLink Field.

Schmid joined Sounders FC in its inaugural campaign after leading the Columbus Crew to its first MLS Cup and Supporters' Shield, earning MLS Coach of the Year honors in 2008.

From 1999 through 2004, Schmid's L.A. Galaxy teams won four major competitions: the 2002 MLS Cup and Supporters' Shield, the 2001 U.S. Open Cup and the 2001 CONCACAF Champions Cup. He was voted the MLS Coach of the Year in his first season, 1999. Altogether, his Galaxy teams were 79-53-32 and reached the MLS Cup final four times, winning three division crowns.

Schmid ranks No. 1 in MLS career victories (187) and games coached (418). Overall, Schmid's record in MLS is 187-130-101. His combined postseason win total (23) is the second-highest in MLS history.

Schmid is one of two coaches in MLS history to guide two different teams to MLS Cup titles. He is one of three to coach in four MLS Cup finals.

Schmid has twice served as the U.S. U-20 National Team head coach, most recently in 2005 at the FIFA World Championships. Schmid was an assistant to Bora Milutinovic on the Americans' 1994 World Cup team and he also was head coach for the 1991 World University Games and 1995 Pan American Games.

Schmid first forged a winning tradition at his alma mater, UCLA. After serving as an assistant, he was elevated to head coach of the Bruins in 1980, beginning a 19-year run at the helm. His first NCAA championship was won in 1985 at Seattle's Kingdome. UCLA went on to claim two more national titles in 1990 and 1997. Schmid was named national coach of the year following the 1997 championship. When he left to take over the Galaxy, his UCLA teams had accumulated a record of 322-63-33.

Scores of Schmid's UCLA players have played professionally and internationally, including Sounders FC Sporting Director Chris Henderson (1989-90). Others include Brad Friedel, Cobi Jones, Paul Caligiuri, Eddie Lewis and Carlos Bocanegra.

Schmid is a member of both the National Soccer and UCLA halls of fame and he was presented with the Walt Chyzowych Lifetime Achievement Award following the 2010 season.

Born in Tuebingin, Germany, Schmid relocated with his family to the U.S. in 1956, and to Torrance, Calif., in 1962. He was a four-year starter at UCLA (1972-75) where he graduated with a B.S. Degree in Economics in 1976 and later earned a M.A. in Business Administration from the University of Southern California. Schmid is a Certified Public Accountant.

He and his wife, Valerie, maintain a residence in Manhattan Beach. He has four children: Erik, Lacey, Kurt and Kyle. Kurt is a Sounders FC Assistant Coach and Scout.

Brian Schmetzer
TOP ASSISTANT COACH

Brian Schmetzer enters his sixth season as top assistant coach for Sigi Schmid's staff after being named to the position on December 22, 2008. He is one of the Puget Sound soccer community's most recognizable figures after playing and coaching for the region's top professional franchises since 1980.

Schmetzer served seven seasons as the head coach of the Sounders' United Soccer League's First Division club. He guided Seattle to USL-1 championships in 2005 and 2007, and U.S. Open Cup semifinal advancements in 2007 and 2008.

Schmetzer has 13 years of experience coaching and 15 years of playing at the professional level. He was a member of six championship teams during that span.

Schmetzer was head coach of the USL-1 Sounders from 2002-08. In addition to the two league championships, his teams also twice won the Commissioner's Cup for the best record and qualified for the playoffs six of seven years. He was chosen USL-1 Coach of the Year in 2002 after going 23-4-1. The Sounders were league runners-up in 2004. His overall regular season record was 100-57-41.

Previously, he was assistant to Fernando Clavijo with the Seattle SeaDogs from 1996-97.

Seattle won the Continental Indoor Soccer League title in 1997.

A Seattle native, Schmetzer signed with the Sounders' North American Soccer League franchise following his graduation from Nathan Hale High School in 1980. He played three seasons as a midfielder for Seattle before going to Tulsa for the final NASL season in 1984. Schmetzer was coached by his father as a youth and his team won seven out of 10 state youth championships.

Schmetzer signed with the San Diego Sockers in 1984 and played seven seasons in the Major Indoor Soccer League with San Diego (1984-88), Tacoma (1988-90) and St. Louis (1990-91). He was a member of San Diego's MISL championship teams in 1985, 1986 and 1988. He returned to Seattle for the Sounders' inaugural A-League season in 1994 before completing his playing career with the SeaDogs from 1995-96.

In 1985, Schmetzer played on loan to FC Seattle, scoring twice in a 2-1 friendly win over Brazil's Santos. While with Tacoma and FC Seattle, Schmetzer's teammates included younger brothers Andy and Walter. Schmetzer has three children, Daniela, Colin and Kian.
Tom Dutra
GOALKEEPER COACH

Tom Dutra was named the Sounders FC goalkeeper coach on December 29, 2008, and is recognized locally for his work in developing young keepers as well as training established professionals.

Dutra, 41, served two seasons as goalkeeper coach under Brian Schmetzer for the USL Sounders.

In 2013, Dutra managed four goalkeepers, three of which started in the regular season. He helped Austrian keeper Michael Gspurning to another strong campaign, finishing second in club history with 10 shutouts (T-5th in MLS) while posting 12 wins. Dutra also trained Marcus Hahnemann in preparation for his return to MLS in 2012. Last season, Hahnemann's set the record for the longest lapse between league appearances in MLS history (14 years and 39 days) and made eight total appearances across all competitions.

Dutra worked with retired Sounders FC keeper Kasey Keller for a decade, conducting 1-on-1 training sessions to prepare Keller for his return to Europe each summer. Under Dutra's guidance, Chris Eylander twice led USL-1 in saves and finished second in shutouts, and was also named the U.S. Open Cup Player of the Tournament in 2008.

Keller captured that same award in 2009.

At the amateur level, Dutra served two seasons (2007-08) as assistant coach for Saint Martin's University and was an assistant for five seasons (2002-06) at Pacific Lutheran. He was director of goalkeeping for Washington ODP in 2008 and served on the state ODP staff from 2002-04. Dutra was the goalkeeping director for Washington Premier FC from 2001-06 and also at Blackhills FC from 2001-08.

During his time with Washington Premier, Dutra worked with more than a dozen keepers who have played at the Division I collegiate level. Among those was Tally Hall, the starting keeper for two-time MLS Cup runner-up Houston Dynamo.

Dutra played four seasons in the A-League on the Sounders' 1996 championship team. He later started for New Orleans and Lehigh Valley (Pa.).

Born and raised in Olympia, Dutra graduated from Timberline High School. He was a member of the youth national team program before sustaining a fractured leg. His career resumed in 1995 with the Oregon (Salem) Surge of the USISL Pro Division.

Tom is married to Molli and they have two children, Tanner and Maggie.

Ezra Hendrickson
ASSISTANT COACH

Ezra Hendrickson was announced as an assistant coach on January 20, 2009, after completing a 14-year professional career, including 12 seasons in Major League Soccer. He is also the head coach of the Sounders FC Reserve League team.

Hendrickson played parts of eight seasons for Sigi Schmid, including three in Columbus prior to his retirement. Hendrickson appeared in 266 regular season matches with 225 starts. Playing defense, he scored 23 goals and added 30 assists.

He also played in 32 postseason games with five goals and three assists. Hendrickson was a member of three MLS Cup championship teams, winning two with Schmid. Together, they won the 2002 MLS Cup with the Los Angeles Galaxy and the 2008 MLS Cup in Columbus. Hendrickson was also with the champion D.C. United team in 2004.

A native of the island of St. Vincent in the Caribbean, Hendrickson began his career in 1997 with the New York MetroStars, before joining the Galaxy later that season. He totaled six seasons in Los Angeles, where he won the 2000 CONCACAF Champions Cup, scoring two goals in a 3-2 victory, and the 2001 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup, scoring one goal in a 2-1 victory. He was named Galaxy's Most Valuable Player for the 2001 season.

Hendrickson went to Dallas in 2003 and began the next season with the A-League's Charleston Battery before joining D.C. United for its run to the 2004 MLS Cup. After starting all 31 appearances in 2005 for expansion Chivas USA, Hendrickson was acquired by Columbus in early 2006.

An All-American and business administration major at Drake University, Hendrickson first played professionally with New Orleans of the USISL Select League (1995-96). After earning his first international cap in 1995, he served 12 years as captain of the St. Vincent and the Grenadines national team. Hendrickson earned his U.S. Soccer 'A' Coaching License in December of 2008. He is a resident of Layou, St. Vincent, and has two daughters, Xavia and McKenzie.

In his role, Schmid is responsible for discovering and evaluating talent for the Sounders FC first team. Over the past offseason, he has put together the club's Las Vegas Combine, assisted at the MLS Combine, and advised Seattle's management at the MLS SuperDraft. He is also responsible for bringing potential international newcomers to train with Sounders FC and frequently travels abroad to discover new talent.

Prior to joining Sounders FC, Schmid was an assistant coach at the collegiate level, first at Saint Mary's College, then from 2007-08 at UC Irvine. In 2008, UC Irvine won both the Big West Conference regular season and tournament championship, and the Anteaters earned an NCAA tournament berth. All three were first-time achievements for the UCI program.

Schmid was a member of the Region IV ODP boys coaching staff for two years and also coached at West Coast FC. Previously he was a coach for South Bay Soccer Club. His coaching career began at South High School in Torrance, Calif.

Schmid played at Wake Forest and UCLA and was a member of the Bruins' 2002 NCAA Championship team. He is a graduate of UCLA with a degree in Business-Economics.

Schmid and his wife, Joanne, have one daughter, Reagan.

David Tenney
SPORTS SCIENCE AND PERFORMANCE MANAGER

David Tenney enters his first season as Sports Science & Performance Manager after spending the previous five seasons as fitness coach. He is one of Major League Soccer's most respected and progressive minds in sports science.

Tenney implemented the Catapult GPS program which measures player movement in games and practices, as well as the Omegawave technology that tests player's heart rate variability and state of readiness before and after participation.

Prior to joining Sounders FC, Tenney served as both fitness and goalkeeper coach in Kansas City in 2007 and 2008, helping the Wizards reach the post-season both years. Kansas City reached the Conference Finals in 2007. He also holds an 'A' license from the Czech Republic F.A. and NSCAA 'Premier' Diploma.

Prior to MLS, Tenney held the same dual role with the George Mason University men's and women's teams for two seasons. In 2006, Mason advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 12 years.

While at George Mason, Tenney also served as director of coaching for the Washington Freedom youth teams from 2004-06 and as Maryland's girls director of ODP, winning two ODP National Championships (2005 and 2006). Tenney's playing career features both collegiate and indoor professional honors. At Virginia Tech (1989-91), he served as team captain the final two seasons. As the Hokies' goalkeeper, he was voted Metro Conference Defensive MVP in 1989.

His professional career began overseas with Germany's SV Linx (1992-93) and FC Rastatt (1993-94). He returned home to play for the Washington Warthogs of the Continental Indoor Soccer League from 1994-97 and held franchise records for saves, wins and minutes played for goalkeepers. He was with the Baltimore Blast of the NPSL from 1998-2000 and also starred for the Baton Rouge Bombers, earning second team All-EISL in 1998. Tenney is married to Allison, who is an assistant coach of the Seattle University women's soccer team. They have two daughters, Quinn, and Cameron. He earned a master's degree in Exercise Science-Performance Enhancement from California University of Pennsylvania, and a bachelor's in Coaching Science from George Mason University.

Western Conference Semifinal (Leg Two)
November 7, 2013 - JELD-WEN Field (Portland, Ore.) Att: 20,674

Despite second-half goals from DeAndre Yedlin and Eddie Johnson, Sounders FC fell, 3-2, to the Portland Timbers in the second leg of the Western Conference Semifinals at JELD-WEN Field. Portland jumped out to a 3-0 lead as they advance on aggregate, 5-3, to the Western Conference Championship. Portland got on the board first when Will Johnson converted penalty kick in the 29th minute after a Seattle hand ball in the box. In the 44th minute Diego Valeri received a ball in traffic on the right side of the box, beat a defender and converted a sliding shot from a tight angle inside the far post to make it 2-0. Mamadou Dansou put the Timbers up four goals on aggregate in the 47th minute with a header after a quick restart. Sounders FC then rallied back with back-to-back goals moments apart. In the 74th minute, Brad Evans' long throw-in was deflected twice in the box and fell to Yedlin at the far post for a blast into the net. A minute later, Yedlin crossed into the box and found Johnson, who rose above the Timbers defense for a header into the back of the net.

Scoring - SEA: Yedlin 74', Johnson (Yedlin) 76'
POR: W. Johnson (penalty) 29', Valeri (Wallace) 44', Danso (Wallace, Johnson) 47'

2009 LAMAR HUNT U.S. OPEN CUP

Seattle became the third first-year franchise in the modern era to win the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup. Seattle's achievement of claiming the Open Cup in its first season equaled that of D.C. United in 1996 and Chicago, an expansion MLS team in 1998. The Sounders FC cup run contributors featured a distinctive USL-1 flavor. All six former members of Seattle's forerunner pro-franchise saw action in games in the play-in phase or tournament proper. In fact, they figured in nine of the 12 goals scored. Sebastien Le Toux scored two goals and two assists in the play-in rounds, scored the game-winner in a quarterfinal win over Colorado, and had the game-winning assist to Roger Levesque in the Cup Final.

In addition to his game-winner in the Cup Final, Levesque also scored the opening goal at Portland in the third round and assisted on Nate Jaqua's equalizer versus Houston. Stephen King scored three goals in cup play, including the overtime winner against the Dynamo.

2010 LAMAR HUNT U.S. OPEN CUP

Playing before a record crowd in the tournament's 97-year history, Sounders FC repeated as Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup champions in 2010.

Sanna Nyassi scored twice as Seattle came from behind at home to defeat the Columbus Crew, 2-1, and became the first team in 27 years to successfully retain the Cup. Sounders FC had defeated D.C. United in the 2009 final. The New York Pancyprian Freedoms won back-to-back titles in 1982-83.

The crowd of 31,311 shattered the attendance record for the Cup Final. The largest previous attendance in the 97 years of the tournament was 21,583 for the 1929 game in Brooklyn.

After tying the game in the 38th minute, Nyassi scored the game-winner in the 66th minute. Steve Zakuani's header from a Fredy Montero cross caromed off the crossbar and Nyassi crashed home the rebound from eight yards.

Sounders FC used a total of 22 players during its Cup run, with striker Nate Jaqua leading the Rave Green into the Final. Jaqua scored in each of the first three matches, including a brace against both the L.A. Galaxy in the quarterfinal round and Chivas USA in the semifinal. He finished as the tournament's co-leader with five goals and was named the competition's outstanding player.

2011 LAMAR HUNT U.S. OPEN CUP

In 2011, Sounders FC became the first team in 42 years and fourth altogether to win the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup three consecutive years.

A crowd of 35,615 fans packed CenturyLink Field—breaking the 98-year-old tournament's attendance record for the second straight year—and watched Seattle defeat the Chicago Fire 2-0 in the final. Fredy Montero broke a scoreless tie in the 78th minute when he rebounded a Jeff Parke header after it was saved by Chicago keeper Sean Johnson, then hammered it into the back of the net. Osvaldo Alonso sent the Sounders faithful into a frenzy when he added the finishing touch—a goal in the 96th minute after weaving his way through multiple defenders. Kasey Keller's shutout was highlighted by four saves.

Montero was named Player of the Tournament after scoring three goals, including the game-winning scores in the semifinal and final. Mike Fucito added two goals and Nate Jaqua recorded a goal and two assists. In addition to his performance in the final, Keller also shut out FC Dallas in the semifinal game.

The last team to win three consecutive US Open Cup championships was Greek American out of New York from 1967-1969. Before that, only Stix, Baer and Fuller from St. Louis had won three straight from 1933-1935 and the Fall River Marksmen from 1930-1932.

2012 LAMAR HUNT U.S. OPEN CUP

Three-time defending U.S. Open Cup champions Sounders FC looked to make a historic run at a fourth straight Open Cup championship, a feat never accomplished in the tournament's 99-year history. Seattle got off to a fast start, defeating NASL side Atlanta Silverbacks, 5-1, and amateur side Cal FC, 5-0, in the tournament's opening two rounds at Starfire Sports Complex. The team then traveled to San Francisco and knocked off the league-leading San Jose Earthquakes at Kezar Stadium, then downed Chivas USA, 4-1, to advance to the finals against Sporting Kansas City.

Zach Scott's header tied the final at 1-1 in the 86th minute, but the Rave Green ultimately fell in penalty kicks, 3-2, ending its historic run at a fourth straight Open Cup Championship.

Sounders FC outscored their opponents 16-3 over the five games and improved its record to 17-0-2 all-time in Open Cup play. Osvaldo Alonso's four goals and two assists earned him Player of the Tournament.

2013 LAMAR HUNT U.S. OPEN CUP

After four-straight appearances in the U.S. Open Cup Final, Seattle saw its 19-game (17-0-2) unbeaten streak in Cup play snapped in a third round loss to the Tampa Bay Rowdies.

Georgi Hristov scored the lone goal as Seattle Sounders FC fell to the Tampa Bay Rowdies, 1-0, in the third round of the 2013 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup. It marks the first Open Cup loss in club history for Seattle (17-1-2) after advancing to the final the previous four years, winning three straight titles from 2009-11. In the 75th minute, Hristov tapped in a rebound after Marcus Hahnemann made a diving save on a Luke Mulholland shot deep inside the box. It was just the third time Sounders FC has allowed the first goal in an Open Cup match, and in both games the Rave Green came back to win 2-1 (7/21/09 vs. HOU and 10/5/10 vs. CLB).

2011-12 CONCACAF CHAMPIONS LEAGUE

In its second bout in the CONCACAF Champions League, Sounders FC advanced to the CCL quarterfinals after finishing second in Group C with 10 points, second only to CF Monterrey's 12 points. After winning its two-match aggregate preliminary series, 2-1, over San Francisco FC of Panama, Seattle got off to a big start in the Group stage, winning its first three matches. Seattle made big news on August 23 when it beat reigning CCL champions Monterrey, 1-0, in Mexico. The win was only the second win by an American squad on Mexican soil.

Fredy Montero led the way with three goals and two assists in the Group stage, and Alvaro Fernandez had two goals and three assists. Mike Fucito and Osvaldo Alonso also had two goals throughout group play.

In the two-game aggregate-goal quarterfinal series, Sounders FC got off to a good start by capturing a 2-1 win at CenturyLink Field on March 7. However, a week later, Seattle saw its Champions League run end in the second leg after Santos exploded for six goals in a convincing 6-1 win in Torreon, Mexico.

2012-13 CONCACAF CHAMPIONS LEAGUE

The Rave Green built off its success in the 2011-12 CONCACAF Champions League by once again advancing to the knockout round of the 2012-13 tournament. In the tournament's new eight-group format, Seattle needed to win its group to advance to the knockout round. Matched up with Caledonia of Trinidad and Marathon of Honduras, Sounders FC cruised to the group win, going 4-0-0 and outscoring opponents 12-5. The Rave Green scored three goals in each game and allowed just one goal from the run of play. Sammy Ochoa led the way with four goals and Andy Rose added one goal and three assists.

Seattle was one of only three clubs to go undefeated in the group stage and entered the knockout round as the No. 3 seed. Sounders FC took on Tigres of the Mexican Primera Division in the tournament's quarterfinals, falling 1-nil in the first leg before mounting an impressive 3-1 home win in the second leg to advance to the semifinals. With the series win, Sounders FC became the first MLS team to oust a Mexican team from the tournament.

In its first-ever semifinals, Seattle faced Santos Laguna in a rematch of the 2011-12 quarterfinals. After falling behind 1-0 in the home leg, Sounders FC earned a 1-1 draw on the road, ultimately losing the series, 2-1.

Scored first Sounders FC goal in regular season finale, a 1-1 draw vs. LA (10/27). Recorded first club assist in 2-0 win vs. COL (10/30) in knockout round of MLS Cup Playoffs. Finished sixth on the team with 32 shots, averaging 4.42 shots per 90 minutes (led team). 2013 MLS All-Star

HISTORY OF SOCCER IN SEATTLE

Capacity crowds at Seattle's Memorial Stadium (above) in the early 1970's helped pave the way to a move to the Kindgome (below).
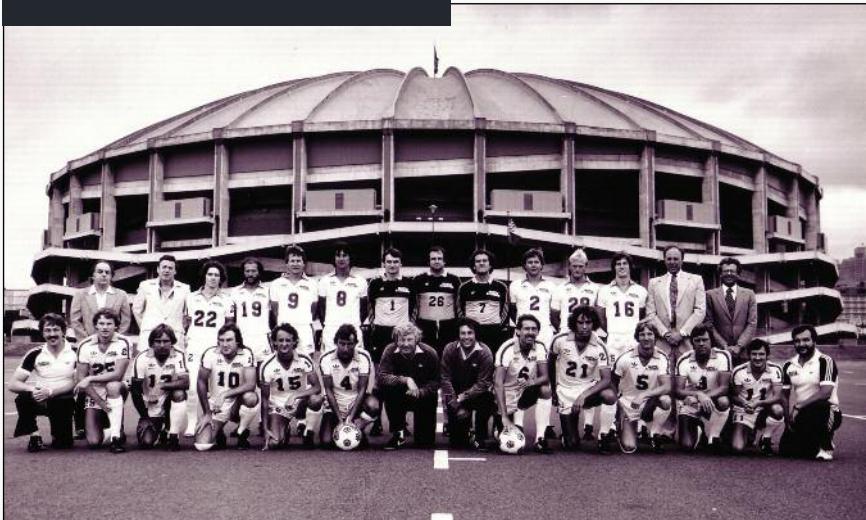

SEATTLE SOUNDERS (1974-1983)

The tradition of professional soccer and the Sounders brand began with the arrival of the North American Soccer League expansion franchise in 1974. For 10 seasons they were successful and entertaining on the field, attracting some of the league's largest crowds. Just as important, the original Sounders created a legacy of developing local players capable of reaching the highest levels of the game.

In some respects, the Sounders paved the way for Seattle securing an NFL expansion franchise a year later. The founding ownership group featured six of the same partners, including Lamont Bean, Howard S. Wright, Lynn Himmelman, David Skinner, Lloyd Nordstrom and Herman Sarkowsky.

The Sounders played their first two seasons outdoors and under the Space Needle. Located on the Seattle Center campus, Memorial Stadium provided a central location and an intimate setting, although the crowds soon outgrew the initial 13,000-seat capacity. In fact, Seattle was the first NASL team to draw a sellout and did so for nine of the final 16 games at Memorial.

With the completion of the Kingdome, the Sounders moved south in 1976, and a sold-out preseason game against Pele and the Cosmos set a North American attendance record of 58,128.

From the outset, the Sounders played an energetic, entertaining style while utilizing British veterans and young, mostly local, North American players. Although it won only two division titles, Seattle finished with winning records in seven of 10 seasons, twice reached the championship game, Soccer Bowl, and in 1980 the Sounders won 25 matches – the most in NASL history.

In each Soccer Bowl, Seattle met the star-studded New York Cosmos. The 1977 final marked the final competitive game for Pele. The Sounders only major trophy was the 1981 Trans-Atlantic Challenge Cup, a midseason tournament involving the Cosmos, England's Southampton and Scotland's Celtic.

The NASL and Sounders peaked in popularity by 1980, and over the following two seasons attendance declined while the number of teams dropped from 24 to 13. Seattle bowed out after the 1983 season, and a year later the league halted operations.

FC SEATTLE STORM (1984-90)

It can be argued that the rebirth of professional soccer in North America began with FC Seattle. In 1984, a year after the original Sounders folded, a new team surfaced with a new objective: to cultivate the best local talent and test it against the best in the business.

Funded by Eastside businessman Bud Greer and with former Sounders player and coach Jimmy Gabriel serving as coaching director, FC Seattle's approach was to create a pyramid system of youth teams feeding a senior men's program. That philosophy ran counter to the NASL era, when foreigners comprised the bulk of the roster and domestic players were in the minority.

Beginning with a summer series of friendlies against NASL teams and the U.S. National Team at Memorial Stadium, FC Seattle held its own and attracted an average of 6,669 fans. The first win came in Vancouver against the Whitecaps, 2-1.

In 1985, the stakes were raised and a league took root. With the NASL now disbanded, clubs from Europe, Mexico and South America were brought to Seattle. However, when British teams faced a world-wide travel ban, FC Seattle was forced to band together with other fledgling clubs to form the Western Soccer Alliance. That became the forerunner of the American Professional Soccer League or, as it was more widely known, the A-League.

Drawing on a mixture of former Sounders and stars from both Seattle Pacific Univ. and Washington collegiate programs, Seattle played a mixture of league and foreign exhibitions through 1988. That campaign culminated with Seattle winning the Western Soccer League championship and, later, making a five-match postseason tour of England. The Storm nickname was adopted prior to the 1989 season.

In 1990, the WSL merged with the East Coast's American Soccer League to form the APSL. In all there were 22 teams, but in 1991, with costs rising due to nationwide travel, membership fell to only nine clubs, and Seattle was not among them. After going dormant, it ceased operations altogether in 1992, although the brand was resurrected and used by an entry in the regional Pacific Coast League through 1995.

SEATTLE SOUNDERS (1994-2008)

In 1994, the World Cup was coming to America and, riding the resulting new wave of enthusiasm, professional soccer returned to Seattle after a three-year absence. The Sounders name was revived and the club, owned by Scott Oki and coached by Alan Hinton, joined the American Professional Soccer League.

From the outset, the Sounders nucleus was largely formed by homegrown talent. Hinton tapped into the college players being produced at both Seattle Pacific and Washington, and added experience in the form of past pros with local connections.

When Seattle won the 1995 A-League championship in its second season, eight of the 13 players who saw action originally came from the surrounding area's youth leagues. In 1996, when the Sounders repeated, nine starters were local products. Player/coach Neil Megson had been with both the original Sounders and Tacoma Stars for a total of nine seasons.

MLS opened play in 1996, and the A-League was thereafter classified as second division. Consequently, many of the top players were lured elsewhere. The Sounders remained competitive, qualifying for the playoffs in all but two of their 15 seasons and winning five divisional crowns.

In 2002 under the management of new majority investor Adrian Hanauer and the coaching of Brian Schmetzer, the club reached for new goals. Hanauer led the local effort to land a new MLS team and also moved the team from Memorial Stadium to the newly-completed CenturyLink Field. In fact, in the stadium's first event, the Sounders played to a USL record crowd of 25,515.

On the field, Seattle won a club-record 23 games in Schmetzer's first season. From 2004-07, it advanced to the USL championship game three times, winning twice. In U.S. Open Cup play, the Sounders eliminated four MLS teams in reaching back-to-back semifinals in 2007 and '08.

SEATTLE SOUNDERS FC ACADEMY

ACADEMY OVERVIEW

The Seattle Sounders FC Academy works to develop the top youth talent for the Sounders FC full team and top college soccer programs across the country. The Sounders FC Academy team plays in the US Soccer Development Association (USSDA), a national league for the top youth club programs in the United States, providing an environment to produce the next generation of national team players. The emphasis for the Sounders FC Academy program is on the development of young men as well as soccer players. The Sounders FC Academy teams joined USSDA in February 2010 and held open tryouts before the U18s and U16s played their first matches in October 2010 at Starfire.

The Sounders FC Academy program has already began to translate to the first team as defender DeAndre Yedlin became the club's first Homegrown Player signing in January 2012, and Aaron Kovar and Sean Okoli followed suit in January 2014.

THE FOUNDATION

"I would rather make a personal decision for a person that will have a long-term positive effect, than make a soccer decision to win something that will have a negative effect."

Darren Sawatzky quotes Clive Charles.

Darren Sawatzky has a good model for his system with the Sounders FC Academy. As a collegian, he played at the University of Portland for the legendary Clive Charles. There, he learned that the development of players goes far beyond the coaching on the field. When Sawatzky became Director of Youth Development for Sounders FC, he brought an emphasis on both player and personal development to the program, feeding directly into the notion that the Sounders FC Academy is more interested in developing young men than winning trophies.

ESTABLISHING EARLY ROOTS

Sounders FC has expanded its Youth Program in recent years, with the growth coming at the U-14 and U-15 levels where the club started a pre-Academy program. The coaches found that they were addressing issues in players at the U-16 and U-18 levels that should have been taken care of much earlier in their development. By getting the U-14 and U-15 players into training three or four nights a week with the Sounders FC pre-Academy, they will be better prepared to meet the expectations placed on them when they reach the U-16 and U-18 levels and, in turn, the collegiate and professional level.

OFF TO COLLEGE

One of the proudest moments for the Sounders FC Academy program is when its players sign National Letters of Intent to join the top college programs across the country and pursue higher education. In 2011, a total of 10 U-18 players committed to Division I colleges, and in 2013, 12 Academy players committed to universities. The Sounders FC Academy program has sent players to 2010 national champions Akron and perennial powers Wake Forest and Duke as well as local stalwarts UW and Seattle University.

INDIVIDUAL SUCCESS

Beyond getting attention at the college level, the Sounders FC Academy players are also getting tabbed by the US National Team for matches at the youth and senior levels. DeAndre Yedlin earned his first senior team call-up in January 2014, and several other players have been courted by the national team, including Paul Christensen, Jamael Cox, Ryan Herman, Aaron Kovar, Jalen Markey and Sean Okoli.

The Sounders FC Academy program also boasts three previous Gatorade Washington State Players of the Year in Nick Palodichuck (2010), Aaron Kovar (2011) and Jordan Morris (2012).

Belal then took over head coaching duties with the Washington Rush in 2009. He also has experience with the Olympic Development Program for the 1996 age group and is currently an assistant coach for the Sounders FC U-23 team.

XBOX PITCH AT CENTURYLINK FIELD

In 1996, Paul G. Allen obtained an option to purchase the Seattle Seahawks and launched a campaign to win public support for a new world-class football/soccer stadium and exhibition center. Six years later, the dream became reality as the Seahawks opened the 2002 preseason against the Indianapolis Colts in new Seahawks Stadium. The stadium was renamed Qwest Field in 2004 and in 2011 became CenturyLink Field. The facility, built atop the site of the Kingdome, is not only home to the Seahawks and Sounders FC, but accommodates many levels of soccer competition, including Major League Soccer, amateur, international, World Cup and collegiate soccer.

CenturyLink Field is designed with a 67,000 seat capacity (38,300 for MLS regular season), with 5,000 additional seats available for special events, and 1,400 seats for fans with disabilities. With a roof covering 70 percent of the seating area, fans enjoy wide, comfortable seats with sideline seating. The facility also features a dozen elevators and expansive concourses with an ample provision of concessions stands and restrooms.

In 2009, CenturyLink Field was awarded the "Event Recycling Award" from the Washington State Recycling Association. As a host for over 300 events and more than 1.5 million visitors annually. The operations staff at the facility diverts 94% of the venue's waste stream from landfills, promotes the sale of more sustainable food options and have installed a 2.5 acre solar array atop CenturyLink Field Event Center that generates more than 800,000 kilowatt hours of electricity annually.

- 100% of the concrete from the Kingdome was processed and recycled (50% built into CenturyLink Field)
- Wide concourses offer outstanding views of the Seattle skyline, Safeco Field, the Cascades and Mt. Rainier, Puget Sound and the Olympic Mountains
- There is a 2,000 car garage – part of 6,500 parking spaces near CenturyLink Field

CENTURYLINK FIELD FUNDING

The $430 million facility is owned by the public and was funded by a private-public partnership. Private contributions totaled at least $130 million, while the public contributed up to $300 million through a lottery and a variety of taxes generated by events in the stadium/exhibition center.

A breakdown of the funding package:

- $130 million private investment led by Paul Allen
- $127 million from new, sports related games, similar to the Mariners' baseball-themed scratch games
- $101 million in sales taxes collected in King County attributable to events in the stadium/exhibition center
- $56 million from facility admission and parking taxes
- $15 million from extending King County's share of the existing hotel-motel tax
- $1 million per year of in-kind advertising for the new lottery games will be provided by Paul Allen
- All excess stadium revenues will fund youth athletic facilities throughout Washington State in addition to a $10 million contribution from Paul Allen
- Paul Allen agreed to pay for any construction cost overruns
- As an added measure, the debt on the Kingdome was retired, freeing property taxes for other purposes

FIRST & GOAL INC.

In June of 1997, Washington State voters approved a funding package to build a new football/soccer stadium and exhibition center. With that, Paul G. Allen and Football Northwest created First & Goal Inc., an entity that represented the interests of CenturyLink Field in the construction of the new stadium and now manage the stadium and event center on a daily basis.

MEDIA POLICY

CREDENTIALS

Season media credentials will be issued to recognized newspapers, magazines, television and established radio stations making reasonable requests. The club does not grant freelance photographers access unless assigned to shoot for a specific story or project.

ROAD CREDENTIALS

Members of the Sounders FC's media traveling to road games should submit requests for credentials to the Communications Department no later than five (5) business days prior to the road game.

MEDIA WILL CALL

Members of the media needing to pick up passes at the game will find the Media Will Call booth located at the Southwest corner of CenturyLink Field. Each person must pick up his or her own credential and present corresponding photo identification. Media Will Call opens two hours prior to the scheduled kick-off. All media must enter through the press gate entrance located at the Southwest Entrance. Media credentials will not be honored at any other entrance. All credentials are non-transferable, and any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from CenturyLink Field and confiscation of the credentials.

BROADCAST

In making requests for broadcast credentials, please specify requirements for spotters and/or statisticians. These services must be arranged in advance, and once they are made the statisticians must be compensated whether used or not. Broadcast booths are located in the CenturyLink Field press box.

PARKING

A limited number of parking passes are available for working media. Members of the media seeking parking passes are advised to make their requests as early as possible. Please note that Sounders FC will not be able to accommodate all requests.

A limited number of TV news trucks will be allowed to park on the CenuryLink Field east access road. TV trucks which provide satellite, uplink or microwave functions will need to make prior arrangements with Mike Tremel, Director of Technical Services (MikeT@SeahawksSoundersFC.com or 206-381-7220).

PRESS BOX

The Gary Wright Press Box at CenturyLink Field is located on the suite level on the west side of the stadium. The press box will open two hours before kickoff. Admittance is limited to working media members with valid credentials. The press box is intended for the purpose of providing a work place for writers, reporters, broadcasters and game personnel. It is imperative that season pass holders notify the communications staff of their intention to cover a game in order to receive press box seating. Family members and guests will not be accommodated in the press box. Abuse of press box press privileges will result in forfeiture of a press pass.

TELEPHONE/WIRELESS ACCESS

Several pool phones are placed throughout the press box. Remember pool phones are to be shared. Courtesy hard lines are available in the photo room. CenturyLink Field offers wireless internet access in all areas of the press box and photographers' work room. The access is free of charge and works with all wi-fi enabled computer equipment. Media wishing to pay for dedicated LAN connections should contact the Communications Department.

GAME NOTES/STATISTICS

Game notes and statistics will be available in the press box. Statistics will be distributed to each seat throughout the game at halftime and 10 minutes following the final whistle. Periodic announcements will also be made during the game.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS

Following the conclusion of the game, a postgame news conference will be held in the NFL Visiting Media Room near both the Home and Visiting Locker Rooms in the south end of CenturyLink Field. Sounders FC and visitor locker rooms are located near the Southeast tunnel on the field level. Your cooperation and professional courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews. Absolutely no autographs are allowed during media access periods.

Media cell phones - No media may use a cell phone at any time inside the locker room. Media members may carry their cell phones into the locker room but may not use them to place or take calls, or to take photos.

FIELD ACCESS

Only working newspaper, magazine and network TV photographers and club/stadium officials are permitted on the field during the game. Press Box passes will not be honored for field admittance at any time, unless authorized by Seattle Sounders FC.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

ENG crew and still photographers holding proper credentials may position themselves along either endline at field level. Immediately prior to each match, photographers who wish to shoot the traditional pre-game team photo will be escorted on cue to the midfield sideline by photo marshals. Photographers will be instructed to walk only on the sidelines–never on the field of play–en route to these temporary sideline positions. Once team photos have been taken, photographers will be directed to quickly return to their endline photo positions. During the match, photographers are advised that they have restricted freedom of movement. At no time during the match can photographers shoot from directly behind the goal. Also, movement from one end of the field to the other is allowed only at halftime on the sideline opposite the team benches. Still photographers DO NOT have access to the locker rooms at any time.

PHOTOGRAPHERS' WORKROOM

The Photographers' work area is located at the back of the press box.

MEALS

Food and beverages are available to working members of the media in the Press Box and Photographers' Workroom.
